

As a brand of the HCS Group, Electrical Oil Services (EOS) makes a decisive contribution to greater sustainability in Europe's electricity grids. We hold a market-leading position and are on track for expansion. We offer our customers a one-stop solution for high-performance, safe and long-lasting transformers with insulating oil services and maintenance offers. In addition, we recycle insulating oils into high-quality base oils for various industries at our production site in Duisburg. This allows us to conserve valuable resources and reduce CO2 consumption.

We are looking to strengthen our team for our Hamburg and Duisburg locations with a

Site Manager (m/f/d)

Responsibilities will include:

- Responsibility for contracting and authority management for our two locations
- Managing and developing the staff teams at our two sites
- Ensuring implementation of and compliance with regulatory requirements at the sites
- Monitoring compliance with occupational health and safety requirements
- Continuous development of business processes (ISO 9001)
- Ensuring the timely implementation of customer requirements regarding our products and services
- Supervision of the ordering process and cooperation with the central procurement
- Reporting to the Managing Director of Electrical Oil Services GmbH

Qualifications & experience:

- A degree in industrial engineering, process engineering or comparable training
- Professional experience with management responsibility
- Knowledge of hazardous substances, waste legislation and process engineering
- Independent, team- and customer-oriented work style
- Highly self-motivated and able to work under pressure, persuasive and self-assured
- Confident handling of application software, especially MS Office
- Good knowledge of written and spoken German

We offer you:

- a future-oriented and expanding employer
- an attractive salary
- a multi-faceted and responsible job with room for personal initiative
